

outside and in with incised chevrons and triangles. It has two holes at the bottom.

- (b) Bronze dagger: described by Evans. (Evans Bronze Implements p. 23 fig. 303) as remarkable in having a kind of second mid-rib beyond two parallel grooves which border the first. It also has two rivet holes for fixing to the shaft.
- (c) Bronze Pin.  $4\frac{1}{2}$  inches long with hollow spherical head with a double perforation; the head and the upper part of the stem are decorated with parallel rings and oblique hatching. Evans says it resembles pins from the Swiss Lake dwellings.
- (d) A perforated whetstone.

The above finds are more fully described in Archaeologia Vol. XLIII.
